NEW BUSINESS: Gary, K8YSZ will be providing some code practice between the ARES net and the SKYWARN Net starting this Friday. They will be very short sessions and send at about 5 wpm. Give Gary your comments, and let him know if you are copying the code alright? (Note from George)...I talked with Howard, KD8ABP by telephone this evening, and he reminded me that ARRL has code practice too! If you have a computer, just go to www.arrl.org, and in the message box at the top type in "code practice". You will then be taken to a choice of speeds from 5 to 35 wpm, and they will also provide a text, so you can check your work. This is machine sent code, so it is perfect in every way, timing and other. I think you will like that service. Thank you Howard for reminding all of us that it is available a ARRL, and the good thing about it is you don't have to be an ARRL member to use this service. Good luck!
